

Coco the Rainbow Butterfly

Created by Cory, aged 5yrs

This is Coco the butterfly. He is a Rainbow Butterfly. He flies all around the world to find the Rainbow Flower.

Before Coco was a butterfly he was a caterpillar and crawled around. Then he was in a cocoon. And Coco had to work hard to struggle and squeeze and push out of the cocoon. Changing from a caterpillar into a butterfly isn't easy. And then his wings had to drip dry, so he had to wait . . . and then he spread them out—oh a beautiful Rainbow Butterfly with stripes of different colours!

And he flew around the world looking for the Rainbow Flower to make honey. When he found the Rainbow Flower he sat on it and had some nectar and then a he had a sleep.

The Rainbow Flower is in the green grass. The Rainbow Flower has petals of different colours. They all taste like rainbow honey.

The sun is so hot sun . And there is dark clouds and thunderstorm and this is the rain.

The lawnmower came and cut the lawn really nicely but it didn't cut the Rainbow Flower because its so so beautiful!

The Rainbow Flower feels good when it rains because it gets the water. The flower is so strong strong strong like this. . . .

What makes the flower so strong?

Because it got lots of rain water and sun.
