

The Treasure Chest

Once upon a time there was an ocean and treasure was buried in this ocean by a pirate who died and lost his treasure many many years ago.

There were sharks in this ocean - three of them.

So Bart was swimming and he dove down and down and he got attacked by these sharks and he died.

Then Prince Harry came and he shot the three sharks because they killed his friend Bart. He was very sad and he had to bury him. And Prince Harry went diving down and down and found - wow treasure! And look more treasure!

And he dug and sifted and dug and found so much treasure of the pirate that had lost that treasure so long long ago.

How did the ocean feel that the treasure was being taken out? Not very good.

Then came a giraffe and he went swimming and he broke his neck and died.

And a tiger came swimming - and he died.
And another shark came and he died.

And the hammerhead shark he died there too.

And a whale he died in the ocean too - I think he drank too much water.

And more and many animals came and they all died one after the other. Some died in different ways, and some wanted to be with the others that had died.

And what happened to Prince Harry? Well he also died in that ocean.

And then finally there was only a donkey and shark left. And the donkey swam with the shark and the shark killed him and he died!
Then the shark died!

Everything had died. All of it. And all the treasure was out of it.

And how did the ocean feel? Well the ocean was very sad because it was lonely because everyone had died. And it was alone. And had no one to play with.

And also it was what made so many of them died. Some may say the ocean felt responsible for what happened there, all that dying. And some may say the ocean felt guilty about what happened.

By Cheyanna, 10 yrs old