

Parent Adolescent Counselling Service

A counselling service for people experiencing conflict in their family relationships and young people engaging in at risk behaviour

Parent Adolescent Counselling Service (PACS)

We work with families experiencing conflict in their relationships and young people who are engaging in at risk behaviour. The service is designed for young people aged 12-18 years old and their parents or caregivers.

We provide:

- Individual and family counselling
- Assistance in resolving family conflict
- A confidential counselling service for young people engaging in at risk behaviour
- Referrals to other support services
- A prompt service
