Home

Home is your happy and safe place.

Koolangas should always feel happy, safe with full tummies.

If you ever feel unsafe or not happy don't be afraid to speak about your feelings or what is making you sad.

All koolangas have the right to feel safe and listen to.

School

School is a fun place.
Where koolangas get to meet other koolangas.
Get to learn how to count, read and write.

At school you have the right to feel safe and happy.
If you ever feel down or sad let a teacher know.
They'll have an understanding on how you are feeling and try their best to help you.

Just do your best to djinang, nih and kadidjiny.
and enjoy waabiny with all the koolangas.

Culture and traditions

Culture and traditions is good to learn.

Elders can teach you about your culture.

How to paint, hunt and cook.

Elders can tell you dreamtime stories, meanings
of the land and language.

Elders can also teach you about traditional koboris and celebrations.

You can past the culture and traditions down to the next koolangas to keep your culture and traditions living on for many years.

Respect

Koolangas should always respect themselves and everyone. Young, old, big or small.

Everyone should show respect and be kind to help make the land a beautiful and safe place for all.

Koolangas should always feel safe and respected.

Don't be karnya for being yourself

Sometimes being a koolanga is hard but just remember you have right to feel safe, loved and listened to.

To grow into a djerpin walang yorgas and maamen.
